

Steps for Manifestation

I SURRENDER

One surrenders all manifestations to be brought forth into one's life experience to be only that which serves soul, and serves the evolutionary pathway of ascension.

I ENVISION

Allow the vision of your manifestation to be played out in front of you. Double check that such a vision is truly coming from soul, for sometimes there are entities that like to dupe one into manifesting something that is not in alignment with your soul, oversoul and source. If the vision appears to be coming solely from one's source, then ask source to bless the vision with any frequencies necessary to begin the spell casting process.

I LANGUAGE

Allow the vision to be translated into the Language of Light. It is the Language of Light that will insure that your creation is unity based.

I FEEL

Allow yourself to feel the joy, enthusiasm and love that shall occur as the manifestation comes to fruition. Fill the vision with your love, and ask your source to bless it with its love.

I INTEND

Now intend the vision into manifestation. It is the intent to bring one's vision to manifestation that sends the vision to the solar planes that then record it, and send it back to be made manifest in the physical as a hologram.

I MONITOR

Each vision, as it is returned, will be clairvoyantly seen as a hologram. Each hologram sits between one's own creative body and the creative body of SSOA. As the creative energy flows between you and SSOA, the hologram is charged bringing the vision into manifestation upon the physical plane.

One may wish to keep each hologram grounded to the Earth Mother, and connected to source, and filled with the Language of Light. One may also need to repair their holograms from time to time after a karmic encounter in which someone has shattered your vision. The repairing of the hologram is no different from any other repair in the body, one simply releases their karma and then utilizes energy to repair any cracks, and retrieve any shattered pieces, and piece it back together again through one's intent.

ALIGNMENT

Each individual must choose to keep their manifestation activities in alignment with their goal of ascension. Sometimes it is easier to make a deal with an anti-christ entity and allow such a being to give chi to your vision in exchange for utilizing one's field. This can create karma that prevents one from ascending, along with harmfulness directed at the fields of another unconsciously. One must therefore choose to manifest all visions with their own information and their own chi to stay in alignment with their choice to ascend.

GRATITUDE

As the manifestation comes to fruition, one gives thanks for what soul and form have manifested, regardless of the outcome. Each outcome serves a particular lesson that fuels ones continued evolution, and therefore serves one's ongoing initiation process and ascension.
